St. Augustine Race Week 2020 Rescheduled to August

The eight-day celebration of sailing known as St. Augustine Race Week 2020 is rescheduled to August 15 – 22, 2020 it has been announced by co-chairmen Dan Floryan and Guy Anderson. All events, previously scheduled for March 14 – 21, 2020 will take place in the same locations on the same days of the week in August. “We are making these plans in hopeful anticipation of a near future when Covid-19 has run its course and is no longer an omnipresent threat. Too much planning, organization and energy has gone into this event to completely cancel it,” Floryan explains. “However,” he adds, “if it appears the virus is still active and dangerous at that time, we will, of course cancel the event altogether. Naturally, we will inform the St. Augustine City Council and St. Johns Tourist Development Council before any of these plans are put into action.”

The rescheduled events include the Youth Regatta, Dragon Boat Races, Inshore Races, Offshore Races and Free Concerts in the Party Tent. All racers who have not withdrawn and requested a refund will remain registered for the new events. All Race Week skippers, crew, sponsors and volunteers are being contacted by race officials and informed of these plans. In the meantime, the SARW race committee will reach out via email, Facebook and media ads to advertise Race Week 2020 Reset.

St. Augustine Race Week is organized by First Coast Sailing Association. Profits are used to support the John Daniel Meehan Youth Sailing Scholarship Program.

From the 2020 St. Augustine Race Week event:

The St Augustine Race Week Committee has made the difficult decision to postpone all Race Week sailing and entertainment activities originally scheduled for March 14 through March 21. A revised date will be announced as soon as possible. The Committee is taking this step as a health-conscience measure to assure the safety and well-being of all the sailors, support teams, volunteers, and the general public. We sincerely apologize for the inconvenience this will cause.
